Toughbook CF-19

The Toughbook CF-19 is Panasonic's only fully-rugged convertible laptop/tablet offering. You can use it as a traditional laptop or fold down the swivel screen and use it as a tablet. With the display facing up, it becomes a tablet that you can then use with the included stylus or with your finger, even if you're wearing gloves. Panasonic's versatile Toughbook CF-19 is surprisingly compact and lightweight, and is ideally suited for automotive mechanics, telecom and utility workers, EMS personnel, marine transport workers, engineers or anyone needing a portable fully-rugged laptop.

Toughbook CF-54

If it weren't for the trademark carrying handle, you'd be hard-pressed to distinguish the Toughbook 54 from an ordinary laptop. Certainly it packs a feature set to rival its high-end, non-rugged counterparts from Dell, Acer, HP and other stylish, fully-breakable brands: a super fast multi-core Intel processor, high-resolution LED display, USB 3.0, HDMI, a huge hard drive and a ton of memory. All that comes inside a military-grade, drop-tested magnesium alloy case. If you appreciate Panasonic's dedication to outstanding build quality, but want something sleeker, look no further.

Starts at $899.99
